Hawaii State Public Library System Fiscal Year 2011-2012 Fact Sheets

The Hawaii State Public Library System's (HSPLS) primary objectives throughout the past year have been to expand programming, upgrade our technology infrastructure, and reinforce our libraries' role as the informational, educational and cultural heart of their communities. This focus led to records for both number of programs and attendance, HSPLS' most significant contribution to student achievement and workforce development in the form of our unique HSPLS HI Tech Academy, and earning the first State of Hawaii Excellence in Technology Award in the category of Improving State Operations.

Our 2012 Summer Reading Programs (SRP), offered for Children, Teens and Adults, set records again this year, with more than 29,000 readers of all ages reading over 302,000 books during the five week program. From 2009 to 2012, participation in our SRP has grown by 41%. There were 29 corporate, non-profit and organizational sponsors in addition to the Friends of the Library of Hawaii and many local Friends groups who provided funding for programs, weekly reading incentives and prizes, such as Kindle Fires, a Nook Color, a Nintendo 3DS, a TV, a digital camera, and DVD players for the Teen SRP; and five Nook Color prizes for the Adult SRP.

In FY 2012, HSPLS circulated nearly 7 million items and conducted nearly 8,700 programs, author visits, storytimes, class visits, booktalks, workshops, etc. with a total attendance of over 222,000. In addition, there were nearly 601,000 Internet sessions on library PCs.

During FY2012, HSPLS staff conducted workshops, one-on-one computer training, and staffed outreach events at local fairs and conventions (e.g. Hawaii Book and Music Festival, Children and Youth Day, College and Career Fair) to promote library services, programs and collections. Staff frequently coordinated visits by authors, storytellers, musicians and crafters, drama presentations, and workshops on a wide variety of topics such as school readiness screening, emergency preparedness, finance and Smart Money, college and career planning, book discussions, income tax assistance, estate planning, stress management, as well as exhibits and displays on an even wider variety of topics. Staff also coordinated programming for numerous national programs such as National Library Week, National Poetry Month, Free Comic Book Day, Children's Book

Week, Teen Read Week, various Holiday programs, and numerous cultural and ethnic programs and activities such as hula, slack key guitar, origami, Chinese knotting, Feng Shui, Hawaiian history, Black History Month, and Filipino-American History Month.

In a unique partnership with Microsoft, HSPLS is now the only library system in the world to offer all our patrons free access to the Microsoft IT Academy, which provides access to more than 1,500 online, self-paced digital literacy and technology training courses ranging from computer basics to network architecture and design. These courses allow patrons to pursue the in-demand skills and competencies needed for improved performance in the classroom, increased effectiveness in the workplace and actually create their careers in the technology field. After less than a year since the November 2011 launch, more than 8,000 courses have been taken. Our partnership with the Hawaii Department of Human Resources Development (DHRD) to provide IT Academy resources to state employees leverages HSPLS assets to reduce DHRD IT training costs and fuels inter-agency collaboration.

HSPLS has a small, understaffed IT section which has worked extremely hard on a variety of initiatives to enhance HSPLS' technology infrastructure, to improve the security of our network, and to work with the Governor's new Office of Information Management and Technology (OIMT), headed by State Chief Information Officer Sanjeev "Sonny" Bhagowalia. Designated as one of only two Centers of Excellence in Hawaii, HSPLS' successful implementation of an impressive number of upgrades, projects and enhancements has inspired many of our vendors to become true partners, with alignment in long-range goals and vision, and with both vendors and HSPLS owning a stake in the success of these initiatives. In October, HSPLS was awarded the first State of Hawaii Excellence in Technology Award in the category of Improving State Operations by OIMT and a panel of IT experts.

Among HSPLS' recent IT accomplishments are:

- complete network re-design with separate, co-existing wired and wireless networks
- design of a secure, internally-hosted virtual cloud enabling public access to a virtual desktop offering 35 languages, and staff access to all core applications and networks from any device
- wireless internet connectivity statewide and replacement of 1,400 desktop & laptop computers courtesy of the State, Broadband

Technology Opportunity Program Access for All Grant, and Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation Opportunity Online funds

- a new email system and unified communication components
- new Public Access Portal

HSPLS libraries are information, education and cultural centers in their communities, providing patrons with statewide access to materials and information, through various online eResources, with on-island delivery and off-island mailing, and with programming coordinated both at the state and local levels.

Two major construction projects were completed and our newest Big Island library received an award:

- Manoa Public Library reopened on June 2, 2012. For nearly three years, staff operated out of two portable classrooms on neighboring Noelani Elementary School's campus while the replacement $10.3 million, 29,425 square foot library was built on the same site as the original 6,500 square foot building. The Grand Opening ceremony was attended by Governor Neil Abercrombie, other elected officials and dignitaries, and more than 500 members of the Manoa community. This project, which is expected to receive LEED Gold Certification, benefited from two successful partnerships: with the Hawaii DOE (kept two portables for classroom use), and with a commercial storage facility (free air-conditioned storage of library materials during construction).
- Lahaina Public Library reopened in November after a $300,000 remodeling project was completed entirely without public funding. The remodeling of the 57-year-old Library was led by the Rotary Club of Lahaina and Maui Friends of the Library, with monetary donations and volunteer time and labor from across the island. The project included new flooring, furniture, shelving, circulation desk, front door and interior and exterior patching and painting. Twenty-one contractors donated pro bona and deeply reduced services to help modernize the building, while 60 volunteers stripped the facility to bare walls and packed, stored, returned and re-shelved 35,000 books.
- North Kohala Public Library (Big Island of Hawaii), which opened on Nov. 8, 2010, was honored as the first place winner of the 2012

NAIOP Hawaii Kukulū Hale Green Building Project Award in May 2012 (recognizes achievements of those who have made significant contributions to Hawaii's commercial real estate industry). This new, 6,000 square foot, $7.8 million building was the first HSPLS branch to obtain LEED Gold Certification from the U.S. Green Building Council.

Despite fiscal and staffing challenges, HSPLS has had a remarkably successful year, and we look forward to continuing to reinforce our libraries roles as critical anchor institutions in their communities by providing the collections, programs and services our patrons need to be successful and to lead informed, engaged and fulfilled lives.

- Letters About Literature is an opportunity for students in grades 4 through 12 to compete in three age levels by writing letters to an author whose book has changes their view of the world or of themselves. HSL arranges for local judges and forwards State winners to LOC for the chance to be selected as national winners.
- The National Book Festival is held each September on the National Mall in Washington, D.C. and attracts crowds of more than 100,000 people. LOC's Center for the Book sponsors the Pavilion of the States, where each state's Center has a booth to promote its local authors and publishers. Since funds are not available for HSL staff to attend the event, HSL ships materials to the Festival and members of the Hawaii State Society of Washington, D.C., provide staffing for the booth.
- Staff of the Hawaii & Pacific Section collaborated with other organizations to expand online resources:
  - They worked with Ulukau to complete digitization of the 1929-1969 portion of the Hawaii Newspaper Index, making it accessible online.
  - They partnered with UH Manoa to make the updated and revised Hawaii Legends Index searchable online.
- HSL librarians represent HSPLS on the Board of the Hawaii Library Consortium, a group that contracts for many databases. The DOE, the University of Hawaii system, and many private libraries work together to obtain online resources at the best possible prices.
